GLOSSARY OF TERMS

S&P 500® Index: (registered trademark of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc.) is an unmanaged index of 500 common stocks primarily traded on the New York Stock Exchange, weighted by market capitalization. Index performance includes the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains.

Barclays Aggregate Bond Index: is a broad-based index, maintained by Barclays Capital, and is often used to represent investment grade bonds being traded in United States. The index invests in a wide spectrum of public, investment-grade, taxable, fixed income securities in the United States - including government, corporate, and international dollar-denominated bonds, as well as mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities, all with maturities of more than 1 year.

Indices are unmanaged and cannot be directly invested into.

SELECTED RISKS

There can be no assurance that the Fund's investment objective will be achieved or that the Fund's investment program will be successful. The fund is new and has a limited operating history.

An investment in the Fund is not appropriate for all investors and is not intended to be a complete investment program. The Fund is designed as a long-term investment and not as a trading vehicle. Investors could lose some or all of their investment. For a summary of the risks associated with an investment in the Fund, please see the "Risk Factors" section of the final prospectus.

The Fund intends to use leverage. Leverage involves the use of various financial instruments or borrowings in an attempt to increase the return of an investment. The use of leverage involves risk, including the potential for higher volatility and greater declines of the Fund's net asset value, and fluctuations of dividends and other distributions paid by the Fund.

The securities in which the Fund will invest may be rated below investment grade. Such securities are regarded as having predominately speculative characteristics with respect to an issuer's capacity to pay interest and repay principal and are commonly referred to as "high yield" securities or "junk" bonds.

There can be no assurances that monthly distributions paid by the Fund to shareholders will be maintained at initial levels, remain stable or increase over time. The monthly distributions will be derived from the Fund's dividends and interest income after payment of Fund expenses.

Given the risks described above, an investment in the Fund may not be appropriate for all investors. You should carefully consider your ability to assume these risks before investing.
